

Student Sexual Health

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR ■ Department of Student Support Services

FNU fosters an environment that supports students during their transition from adolescence to adulthood. It recognizes that becoming a sexually healthy adult is a key developmental task of adolescence, and as such campus health services, counselling services and offices of student campus life are positioned to positively influence both academic and life outcomes by ensuring that resources for sexual health are available and accessible to students.

For students who are sexually active we encourage you to visit the Nasinu and Natabua Uniclinics where you can make use of our free condom dispensers. For other sexual health issues or if you feel you may have contracted an STI, please feel free to visit your Uniclinic Nurse or G.P for free and confidential counselling and treatment.

Students who may be struggling with their mental health in regards to sexual orientation, relationships or abuse are encouraged to seek free counselling with our FNU counsellors.

Sexual Health is an integral part of general health and Student Services are here to support and guide you with our Counselling and Uniclinic Medical Services.
